Brief introduction of the exhibition:

Investment theories indicate that “sustainable economic growth” depends on productive investment realization (both domestic and foreign investments) in societies. It requires strengthening the ability of capital attraction, the security of the investment environment and the efficiency of the economic governance in the field of investment. Joining the Shanghai Cooperation Organization, accepting the invitation of BRICS to be its new member Jan. , and on the verge of approving Iranian seventh five year economic, social and cultural development planning , the Islamic Republic of Iran represents its incentives to improve its capacities and advantages to achieve sustainable economic growth. Moreover, with deepening country’s productivity, along with the efficiency of the country’s money and capital markets, will boost its long run perspective to comprehensive growth and development.

Investment, as a multi and interdisciplinary science, has a great scopes, scientific principles and professional standards. One of the manifestations and means of attracting investment, both in the domestic and foreign fields, is the systematic, transparent and scientific “promotion and protection of investment”, which is in the form of a comprehensive international exhibition and event, with a wide coverage of all organizations and stakeholders and also investment capacities in Iran which has the title of presenting opportunities investment in Iran (IRAN INVEX)

IRAN INVEX aims to create the field of internal and international marketing as well as international negotiations between domestic and foreign investors in a three days exhibition and facilitate decision-making regarding investment in Iran. Just as the strength and lack of economic dependence of the Middle East region facilitates the path of progress of Islamic Republic of Iran, certainly a settled, safe, and developed Iran can facilitate the obtaining of the strategic goals of neighboring and aligned countries.
